A cutting-edge yacht when she came out in 1997, the Sea Ray 580 Super Sun Sport has the high-impact sex appeal of a purebred European sportcruiser. Indeed, with her muscular profile, integrated hardtop, and stylish reverse transom with its PWC garage and flanking walkways the Super Sun Sport remains a handsome express yacht even by today's styling standards. She's built on a fully cored hull with prop pockets and a relatively wide 15-foot, 9-inch beam. Below decks, the opulent salon is dominated by a full-length Ultraleather sofa that converts into a double bed at the touch of a button. The master stateroom, with its private head and queen-size bed, is aft while the guest stateroom is forward. Both heads have separate stall showers, and the home-style galley features acres of counter space and copious storage. Cockpit highlights include a big U-shaped lounge aft of the helm, full wet bar, hidden foldout boarding steps, and sun lounge atop the PWC compartment. Note that there are two entrances to the engine compartment, one via a cockpit deck hatch and the other by lifting the floor of the garage.
